

Tom Kim, Vice President Sales and Marketing, OneTouch Systems

Tom has been a strong leader and manager with One Touch since 1999 and now leads all sales and marketing initiatives. He has made important contributions as a member of the One Touch Global sales team since 2007. Tom has extensive experience and knowledge of Interactive Distance Learning (IDL) and a solid background in enterprise satellite VSAT and IP multimedia delivery technology.

Tom has successfully delivered IDL solutions to large enterprises and governments across the United States, Canada, and Australia. He is committed to meeting or exceeding customers' needs.

During the first ten years of his tenure with One Touch, Tom led several project teams. He managed the Sustaining Engineering, Technical Support & Customer Service Team, responsible for delivering prompt and effective system implementation and field engineering support and service to customers. He streamlined processes within the One Touch Quality Assurance Department to ensure the delivery of the highest quality products.

Prior to joining One Touch, Tom was with Deloitte & Touche LLP. Tom holds a Project Management Professional Certificate from Project Management Institute and a Bachelor's degree from the University of California, Berkeley.
